Your Wedding Story” is the beginning of a new chapter in your lives.

Being there to cover the entire story of your wedding day is very important to me. When I say full coverage, that means pretty much being available most of the day. That is usually about 8 hours.

If you are going to dine and dance your guests in celebration of your marriage, it takes a while. I am there to preserve those special moments for you. I am at your service. A photojournalist record of your day also includes photos of family and the wedding party along with all of the fun stuff.
